

NOTICE

This business is listed with the Common Law Court and stands under the jurisdiction of Common Law.

The business owner and employees are exercising their unalienable right to earn a living.

Please read the following notice thoroughly and carefully before responding. It is a notice. It informs you. It means what it says.

As you are a third-party intervener in this matter acting without authority, I DO NOT give you permission to interfere in my commercial affairs as you have no legal standing. I do not have a contract with you and any permission that you believe you may have from me is hereby withdrawn. If you believe that you have power of attorney to act on my behalf you are hereby fired, and any consent that you believe you may have, tacit or otherwise, is hereby withdrawn.

I am not under any obligation to answer your questions nor give you my details.

I am a living man and statutory regulations only apply with my consent.

I, and the other members of my business, DO NOT CONSENT.

If you wish to pursue this matter further, please provide me with your first and last name and full address so that I may hold you personally liable in your private capacity.

Furthermore, you do not have my permission to pass on my details to any other party, whether they be part of your organisation or another authority.

Sincerely and without ill will or vexation
